Patagonia

Inspired by one of the most fascinating natural stones on the planet, the Patagonia collection brings the aesthetic complexity of the quartzite of the same name to porcelain, on a luminous beige base, dotted with veins, inclusions and contrasts that seem chiselled by geology itself. The result is an explosion of nuances, a piece with a strong visual impact, where creamy waters intertwine with graphite strokes and ochre and earthy flashes, creating a unique depth. Its almost sculptural presence makes it an elegant solution for wall cladding, integration into furniture or decorative applications. Its finish enhances the natural texture of the stone and allows for a leisurely reading of every mineral detail.
